

Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

The June primaries are over and it looks like we have to struggle along without any more elections until the eleventh day of August. I sincerely hope that the August primaries will not be as strenuous as those held in June.

Tonight is going to be a big night in Belle Glade. The Mayor and his advisory committee are sponsoring a playground party at the Legion hall and the money realized will go for purchasing equipment for a ball team to be used by the youngsters and grown-ups. Those in charge say they will attend the party and they will only find the money if they will only attend the party.

Then the American Legion in Pahokee is sponsoring a movement to raise money for the swimming pool to be built on ground adjacent to the Legion pavilion. They have already put out a call for donations and the money will be sold in short order. Their project is a worthy one and should command the attention of every one in Pahokee.

Another happening that should be of interest is the Townsend rally and fish fry scheduled to take place in Pahokee on Monday night. Speaking of fish, the fry will start at 11 a. m. and a free fish fry will be served at the noon hour. Mayor John Dunham, Mr. Baker and Rev. O. H. Gast of Lake Worth will be in charge of the day's program and promise all who attend a big time.

And Saturday is the Fourth of July. I sure am glad that the calendar brings us to this time of the year. Thursday, because Thursday is a busy day around country newspaper offices, one will find a lot of news. There is a black bass weighing about 12 pounds I will make an earnest effort to be one of my best fishing plugs.

Work is being rushed on the highway from Indian town to Port Mayaca and it is only a matter of short time until we will have the outlet to the East Coast which will save us much money. The Ballenger Construction company of Lakeland is doing the work and inspection proves that they are doing a good job. Maybe as the years roll on those of us who live in the Lake region will see good highways all around and about us. Let us hope for the best.

Another primary on August 11. Two United States Senators are to be nominated. Right now it looks like there will be many, many candidates. The "battle of the sages" Doyle, Carlton and Claude Pepper already have announced their candidacy. Doyle will run for Trammell's seat and Claude says he is going after Fletcher's place. Claude and Doyle are well known in the Lake region and have a flock of friends who will be there fighting for them until the final ball is cast on August 11. Many of the "other" entries are not well known in this section but they will be before the battle is over.

Vacation time! Have you been or have you just planned to go? Some have returned already and others are planning to leave. Many more are away at the present time. Wherever you go, whatever you do, and no matter what time you go, you will find that you'll be right glad to get back on the shores of Lake Okechobee.

This week end when you take your family for an outing in celebration of the nation's birthday you will not exercise a great amount of caution with the old family car. Automobile accidents always come in their shiny "old" days and holidays and the coming week end will be no exception unless we are extra careful. Let's start just an hour earlier each day and we will not have to make a speedy out of the highway.

Apes! Apes! Those things will turn your hair white.

SURVEY OF SOIL IN EVERGLADES AREAS PLANNED

Federal Dept. of Agriculture Sets Up New Machinery for Work

On Tuesday of this week in Washington important steps were taken by the Department of Agriculture which will affect the entire Everglades area of Florida. That department set up machinery for a soil conservation and fire control survey which will, in all probability, bring in much information valuable in the up-building of the most fertile agricultural section in the United States today.

A delegation of Floridians announced after a conference with department officials, a board would be appointed to make the study and report before Congress convenes next January. The board will be composed of members of the agriculture department staff.

Representative J. Mark Wilcox of Allendale Beach, who arranged the conference, told department representatives, more than 400 acres had been swept the Everglades in the last year and that one had damaged more than 30,000 acres. Following formal recommendations by Wilcox the board will be directed to report on the following points, in mapping out its "long range conservation program":

Elevations of various points in the 4,000 acres of the Everglades and the depth of the water and depth of muck; existing state and national laws and their effect on soil conservation possibilities in the Everglades; and the advisability of setting up a planning board, possibly by the Florida Legislature, to coordinate the various agencies.

Alfred H. Wagg of West Palm Beach, chairman of the Everglades Drainage District, said that the extensive survey was evidence that the Agriculture Department recognized the importance of the area as a national asset.

TOWNSEND CLUB TO HAVE RALLY

Monday Is the Day and Legion Grounds in Pahokee the Place

Members of the Pahokee Townsend club have completed plans for a big rally and a free fish fry to be held at the Legion grounds in Pahokee on Monday, July 6. Several noted members of the club will be present and speak to the gathering. Speaking is scheduled to start promptly at 11 a. m. and the fish fry will be served at the noon hour. John Dunham, mayor of Pahokee, and Rev. O. H. Gast, of Lake Worth, will be in charge of the speaking and promote an interesting program. Rev. Gast has worked untiringly for many months in behalf of the Townsend movement and is one of the most interesting speakers ever to appear in Pahokee for the advancement of Townsendism.

Officials of the club state that the rally is invited to attend the big fish fry and hear the speakers. It is thought that the speaking will be held in the Legion pavilion and the fish fry will be served in the Legion grounds adjoining the pavilion.

Earl Lee Is New Butcher At Lunn's

Earl Lee, who is familiarly known in grocery circles around Lake Okechobee, has accepted the position as butcher at Carl S. Lunn's grocery store in Canal Point. Mr. Lee is a competent meat man and will have an invitation to his friends to visit him at Lunn's store.

Final Count Gives Rardin 6 Vote Lead

The county canvassing board's final count on the group two representative race gave Paul Rardin 502 and Herbert D. Beck 496. The last batch of absentee ballots counted on Friday morning brought the canvassing board record in session until six o'clock in the evening in order to count more ballots which might have come in on Friday. The last mail brought on more ballots and the canvassing board sent the official count to Tallahassee.

Delinquent Tax Board Created In Town Belle Glade

The Town of Belle Glade has much money out in delinquent taxes and in order to collect some of this money at once, the town council has created a Municipal Delinquent Tax board which will adjust taxes on any property where the owner believes them out of line.

Hugh J. Bratley, town clerk, stated that this newly created board will meet the second and fourth Wednesday evenings of each month in the town hall at 8 p. m. The board will hear complaints and make adjustments of taxes, the clerk said.

REVIEW JOB TO START SOON

J. F. McLure, Jr., With Offices on East Shore, To Be in Charge of Work

Reviewment work will start within the next few days on the shore of the levee built around Lake Okechobee, according to official word coming from the United States Reclamation Service. J. F. McLure, Jr., formerly with the engineers office in New Orleans, will be in direct charge of the reviewment work. McLure plans to establish offices in Canal Point or Pahokee.

Officials in charge of the work are hopeful that it can be completed before the storm season this fall. A great retaining wall is being built along the toe of the levee at the spots where erosion has been taking place. This will build the levee berm and give a rock wall to break wave action from the open lake and prevent further erosion.

Contrary to popular belief, a hydraulic dredger will be used on the work. The dredger, which will be used with a constant three-lashed dragline, two with a constant one-lashed dragline and a 125 foot boom and two 50-foot boom government dredgers.

Dr. Harry Elarbee, son of Dr. Harry Elarbee of Pahokee, has arrived in Pahokee from Atlanta and has opened offices for the reviewment work. Dr. Elarbee has been in Pahokee for many years and has a host of friends here. He will be in charge of the reviewment work.

FLORIDA QUOTA 27,300 WORKERS

WPA Workers' Willingness to Work Will Be Considered

Under the new WPA program of Florida, the state of Florida will have 27,300 workers. The rate for the program will be a statement made by E. A. Pynchon, state administrator, after returning from a regional conference where administrators received new instructions.

Pynchon said Florida was the only state in the south not receiving a lower wage rate for workers. The administrator said work had been increased and working hours in some instances increased from 24 hours, and have been able to control the water so that there was no flood damage. We came through two disastrous hurricanes with flying colors, and our experience with a series of "cold spells" has convinced us that when 75 per cent of the Everglades crops are badly injured, our lands will be among the 25 per cent that will be damaged by the injury.

On a scale which cannot be attempted with liberal capital, backing, through a period of 24 hours, the depression threatened all constructive work, the orderly battle to bring the Everglades and to produce a scientifically planned agricultural community as a protective background for a modern town, has continued for the past

STANDARD BEARERS OF DEMOCRACY

President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner, named by National Convention as Democratic standard bearers, will begin a vigorous "victory" campaign in the next few weeks.

AUGUST 11 DATE FOR SENATORIAL PRIMARY IN FLA.

Gov. Sholtz Will Not Seek A Seat in Coming Election

Democrats of Florida, who have finished two hectic primaries in which they chose state officers, will go to the polls again on August 11 to name two United States Senators to fill the places made vacant by the deaths of Senator Park Trammell and Duncan U. Fletcher. The date for the primary was chosen late Tuesday by the state Democratic committee in session in Jacksonville.

If no candidate for each of the two seats is nominated in the first primary a runoff election will be conducted September 1. The special primaries will be financed and conducted by the state and counties just as any other Florida election.

The new state Democratic executive committee called the elections late Tuesday after there had been a long discussion about the legality of using public funds for the primaries. Republicans have been threatening to sue but Democratic leaders Tuesday agreed to bring a test case themselves to remove all questions about the matter.

Experimental Stage Passes At Port Mayaca Says Martin County Writer

Port Mayaca, the Coral Gables of the Everglades, has passed the experimental stage, according to Ernest Lyons, city editor of the Stuart Daily News, who visited the fast developing town Monday. The start of this week. From time to time these columns have carried stories about the town and its development and this week we are pleased to re-print here with the story written by the Stuart Daily News. Mr. Lyons after his visit there, Mr. Lyons' story follows:

The experimental stage at Port Mayaca, vast Everglades development on the eastern shore of Lake Okechobee and western edge of Martin county, practically a thing of the past, and it is highly probable that the second stage of a long-planned program will be launched this fall and will result in the introduction of permanent settlers into the set-up.

We have talked through just about everything that can happen. Paul Hoenes, manager of the 7,000 acres of Gladesland, told the Stuart Daily News Monday. He has more than one occasion experienced over 12 inches of rainfall in 24 hours, and have been able to control the water so that there was no flood damage. We came through two disastrous hurricanes with flying colors, and our experience with a series of "cold spells" has convinced us that when 75 per cent of the Everglades crops are badly injured, our lands will be among the 25 per cent that will be damaged by the injury.

Claude Pepper and Doyle Carlton Head List for Jobs in Two Groups

The Democratic primary election to be held on August 11, at which time two United States senators are to be nominated, is expected to be one of the most exciting and entertaining during the history of the state. Nearly a dozen Florida democrats have declared their intention of entering the race to succeed Senator Park Trammell and Duncan U. Fletcher.

Claude Pepper of Tallahassee has definitely announced his candidacy for the nomination. He is a native of the state and has been in the state since 1930. He is a member of the state general revenue fund on a current basis, with a surplus at the end of the fiscal year. Controller Lee said.

John Martin of Jacksonville, Justice Rivers H. Buford of the state supreme court, and Congressman R. A. Green of the second congressional district.

Former Governor Doyle E. Carlton of Tampa definitely has declared himself in the running for Trammell's term which expires in 1941. So have C. O. Andrews of Ocala and William F. Booden of Leesburg. Others mentioned as possible candidates in this group are James C. Dwyer of the present term, Lauderale and J. Mark Wilcox of West Palm Beach, congressman from the fourth district.

STATE WILL USE BLACK INK WITH CHANGE IN YEAR

Comptroller Says Outlook Brighter as New Fiscal Year Opens

Reports coming from Tallahassee are to the effect that office supply stores there have been busy lately supplying black ink for the state. The state is expected to go away to a flying start on a new fiscal year. First entries on a budget of $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 a surplus close to $200,000, according to Comptroller J. M. Lee. "I think the surplus will be about $300,000," Comptroller said. "We have $327,000 in the general revenue fund Tuesday night, June 30."

"The prospects for the next fiscal year are brighter than they have been in years," Comptroller said. "However, if we are to stay in the black ink we must have a new generation of teamwork on the part of every fiscal officer of the state and by every citizen."

During this fiscal year, the state paid all its bills, paid every obligation by the legislature, produced $1,500,000 for public schools, $1,200,000 for state institutions, $1,000,000 for the general revenue fund, out of which general state government finances are supplied.

The chain-store tax law, which the legislature counted upon to produce $1,000,000 for public schools, brought far less than that as court actions were filed against it. Only $250,000 from it was paid to the schools.

Last of the $1,500,000 was paid to schools Tuesday with credits of $1,200,000. The Apportionment committee is being educated by the department of education and will be finished tomorrow.

Payment of $2,000,000 in taxes on the estate of Alfred I. Dupont, Jacksonville financier, helped the general revenue fund on a current basis, with a surplus at the end of the fiscal year. Controller Lee said.

PLANNING START DRIVE TUESDAY TO SELL BONDS

American Legion Post In Pahokee Will Erect Swimming Pool

Tuesday is the date for inauguration of a campaign by the Pahokee Post of the American Legion to sell bonds to finance construction of an up-to-date swimming pool. Present plans call for erection of a pool, which will meet the rigid specifications of the State Board of Health, on the ground adjoining the Legion pavilion.

It will be necessary for the Legion to dispose of $5,000 worth of bonds in many towns near Tallahassee yesterday that nearly half that amount is already pledged. The bonds will be sold in increments of $25 in order that everyone may have an opportunity to assist in building the pool.

H. W. Wildman and Son, contractors of Orlando, who will build the pool have agreed to buy the bonds in the amount of $2,500 necessary for the completion of the job. The pool will be 40x80 feet and graded to a depth from 6 to 10 feet to ten feet, thus providing for the Lake Okechobee region as fine a swimming pool as found in many towns near Tallahassee. The contractor pointed out that the major portion of the pool will be built on the one planned for Pahokee will be large enough for swimming meets to be held in connection with the pool.

Much interest has been shown by citizens of Pahokee and the surrounding region in the latest undertaking of the Legion Post and it is hoped by those in charge that the pool will be completed in short order. The new pool will provide a new center of entertainment and recreation for old and young alike.

WORK RUSHED ON ROADPT MAYACA TO INDIANTOWN

Ballenger Construction Co. Loses No Time on 6 1/2 Mile Stretch

The John E. Ballenger Construction company of Lakeland, under supervision of the state road department, is rushing the work on a 6 1/2 mile section of the new sand-road between Indian town and Port Mayaca.

Out from the moored in St. Lucie canal nearby is being mixed with the sand base of the highway by a haul done by tractors towing drag plows, which grinds the mixture together, forms it into a smooth, wide highway.

And there is no doubt about the speed of the work. The grade of tractors on the scene yesterday has been working for weeks without a let-up, and Sundays are the same activity as week-days.

Meanwhile motorists are advised not to attempt passage of the new grade, but to stick on the old highway all the way, since vehicles are liable to get stuck in the loose sand of the road under construction.

Inquiry at Indian town revealed that the "hot" that, occasionally, is thoroughly satisfied with the sand-out type of road as already established between Indian town and Port Mayaca. They say that it produces a smooth driving surface, is non-bumpy and stands up well under traffic.

When the two links now defined on the road are completed, it is a matter of general opinion that the state road department will see fit to continue the improvement on into Stuart, linking that city with the rich Everglades, and providing a quick, short route by which the tourist can reach the East Coast.—Stuart Daily News.

Avon Park Times: Exceeding the most optimistic predictions of many friends, Fred C. Cone of Lake City, was accorded the Democratic nomination for governor of the state of Florida at the second primary Tuesday by the near record majority of over 60,000 votes. It was a noble victory. Following the first primary in which 12 candidates fell by the wayside, thousands flocked to Cone's banner from all over the state, believing him to be the man to guide Florida's destinies for the next four years.

He was up against good opposition in the person of Judge F. B. Pettway of Tampa, a very fine citizen himself with a clean record of many years on the bench. But Florida Democrats wanted Cone and said so in unmistakable language, they said it with ballots. Last-minute attempts that some partisan supporters attempted to inject into the campaign were ignored by the voters and Cone went on to victory without a setback. The Times supported Cone in the second primary and we did what we could to further his cause. We are proud of him and predict he will give Florida one of the best administrations. Standish also has over had. May Florida go forward under his guidance and prosper as it never has before. Here's to you, Mr. Cone, and may your shadow never grow less.

Winter Park Herald: No greater campaign has ever been made by a Florida public office seeker than that of Fred Cone, of Lake City, who easily carried off high honors for the office of governor in the second primary last Tuesday. Judge Pettway, defeated by a landslide from Tampa, had many advantages over the winner, but they proved to be luck potency.

In the first place, Judge Pettway's county is one of the most populous in the state—but it gave a very substantial majority to Fred Cone. Again, in the sections that have been commonly known as Central Florida and South Florida, where Judge Pettway resides, there is more than two-thirds of the entire population of the state, yet the bulk of the voters in these two sections rallied to the support of Fred Cone.

In Central and South Florida, the principal interests are growing citrus fruits and winter vegetables and entertaining tourists. The principal interests are in the sections above described, whereas Fred Cone living in North Florida where general farming is supreme along with other industries like lumber, turpentine, paper manufacturing, etc., with practically no interest in citrus fruits and winter vegetables or to entertain tourists. Yet Fred Cone won.

Things are going to change. A campaign to the effect that Judge Pettway was an administration or a machine candidate, both of which are untrue. Judge Cone, it was said that he was a straight-laced churchman and would probably be content to vary his day's entertainment provided for winter visitors, some of which, as a matter of fact, the state has no other competitor of. All this might have cut some figure in the returns, but it appears pretty clear to this writer that Pettway lost because he was running against Fred Cone.

Palm Beach Post: Do the legislators of the various states need re-making, and what would be the effect of a change by which the voters in each state elect one house instead of two?

Questions like these are being asked by the public. The nation, more particularly since the unicameral legislature was accepted by Nebraska. Every one of our states has had a senate, a small body consisting usually of members of the legislature of representatives, a larger assembly, which is the majority of instances consists of 100 to 200 members.

The founders of our government were fearful of giving officials too much power. They had seen the people ground under the heel of official tyranny. In our new government, they thought, we will not merely prevent kings from exercising tyranny over us, but we will prevent the tyranny of majorities over minorities.

So they established state legislatures consisting of two houses. They thought that the senate would check the ways of popular emotion that might control the life by attempting to drive away the tendencies to conservatism.

Most of this flow of persons back to the farms represents the countryward migration of the unemployed and others unable to obtain work in factories, mines, lumber mills, etc., to escape illness, child expenses, and to make room for family use. The average of three persons per farm reporting this movement, and the increase of over half million farms since 1930, suggest that this has been largely a movement of whole families rather than the migration of individuals. Those families have moved to farms once abandoned, to new farms, and to unoccupied houses on farms operated by their relatives and friends.

Not all of these newcomers have been unemployed nor have all remained unemployed. In many areas, thousands have engaged in part-time farming and have supplemented their urban or industrial income with rural living. Improved roads, reduced transportation charges, and cheap living in the country than in the city have brought thousands of families back to the land to live and have been holding them there. A special report will be devoted to part-time farming.

The migration of families has been to small farms. There, these families have sought to produce at least part of their own food, particularly vegetables, eggs and milk needed for their own use. These families have probably sought to produce their own food, particularly vegetables, eggs and milk needed for their own use.

In many areas, thousands have engaged in part-time farming and have supplemented their urban or industrial income with rural living. Improved roads, reduced transportation charges, and cheap living in the country than in the city have brought thousands of families back to the land to live and have been holding them there. A special report will be devoted to part-time farming.

The migration of families has been to small farms. There, these families have sought to produce at least part of their own food, particularly vegetables, eggs and milk needed for their own use. These families have probably sought to produce their own food, particularly vegetables, eggs and milk needed for their own use.

This movement has been largely a migration of whole families rather than the migration of individuals. Those families have moved to farms once abandoned, to new farms, and to unoccupied houses on farms operated by their relatives and friends.

JOHN MARSHALL'S BREAD
John Marshall of Virginia was Chief Justice of the United States for the longest period any man ever held that great office, 34 years (1801-1835). His childhood and youth were spent in the backwoods of the old Dominion. Historians of that stirring period of American history give us an intimate picture of the daily life and food of these settlers. Young John Marshall and his four brothers and sisters (all of whom lived to maturity and most of them to ripe old age) had corn bread or mush.

(By Florence Jones Hadley)
Think of them as the night draws nigh. Of an old house on the hill Of a yard all white and blossoms starred. Where the children played at will And when the night at last came down Hushing the merry dim Mother would look around and ask "Are all the children in?"

Pardon Board To Consider Charges

TALLAHASSEE, June 30.—The State Pardon Board, faced with criticism for releasing eight convicts recently, will meet tomorrow to discuss its future procedure.

Gov. Dave Sholtz announced an investigation to determine whether facts were misrepresented to the board when it paroled Joe Yates and Robert Edwards, serving life sentences for robbery in Tampa. Board members said they would ask the 1937 legislature for funds to employ a special investigator to whom all clemency applications would be referred before action by the board. They said they favored more rigid rules in granting pardons and paroles.

The Pardon Board is made up of Governor Sholtz, Secretary of State Gray, Attorney General Landon, Comptroller Lee and Commissioner of Agriculture Mayo. The Governor, Gray and Landon were present when Yates and Edwards, and six others sentenced from Tampa, were released, June 10, on paroles.

Governor Sholtz said he would propose revocation of the paroles if facts in the cases were misrepresented. J. P. Newell, board secretary, said the Yates and Edwards applications were presented by Mabry A. Carlton and Lester W. Jennings, Jacksonville attorneys. Sholtz said his office tomorrow, the governor will find a letter from the Hillsborough County Grand Jury requesting a report on "the facts and circumstances surrounding" the paroles. It carries the name of J. W. Cameron, Grand Juror from Tampa.

Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo said the Pardon Board's rules "were made 30 or 40 years ago when we had a hard time of prisoners. Now we have 6,000 and the rules should be revised."
